DIRECTORATE OF EXTENSION (DOE) ANNOUNCES THE SERIES OF DIALOGUE ON AGRICULTURE & ALLIED SECTOR

Directorate of Extension (DoE) IAAS pleased to announce demand based series of dialogue in the theme of agriculture, livestock, veterinary, livelihood and agrarian issues. DoE with collaboration of (DoRP) and departments three different kinds of series of dialogues will be conducted. These three types of series are: technical knowledge sharing, experience sharing and policy dialogues. These series are expected to construction and sharing of the knowledge related to the agriculture and allied sector. The target group of these series are masters as well as graduating students, researchers, faculties and the concerned stakeholders. These series will be conducted on the seminar hall of PG building at Kirtipur premises. For the time being these series are conduct zero cost mode and will be liaised by DOE on prior approval and discussion. Faculties and concerns stakeholders are requested to liaise with DoE for approaching the people for the dialogue.

Series of dialogues on agriculture and allied sector through contribute to a well-informed agriculture and allied policy decision, knowledge construction. However, the specific objectives of dialogues can vary in several ways. Objectives may differ depending on the timing of the dialogue and the knowledge construction and policy development process. Similarly, the importance of the different ways in which dialogues can contribute to the development and implementation of an evidence-informed knowledge construction and policy may vary, the extent to which the aim of the dialogue is to reach a consensus may vary. Also the ways in which the series of dialogues feeds into the knowledge construction and policy development process may also differ.

We hope series will successful to achieve its objective in the future.
